Was hat es mit dem St. Patrick's Day auf sich?

Warum feiern die Iren eigentlich am 17. März und mit ihnen die ganze Welt?

Der 17. März ist der Namenstag von St. Patrick, dem Schutzheiligen Irlands. Er wurde um 395 in Großbri-tannien geboren und als 16-jähriger als Sklave nach Irland verschleppt. Er konnte fliehen, wurde Bischof und kehrte als erster Missionar des christlichen Glaubens nach Irland zurück. Viele Legenden ranken sich um sein Leben, etwa die, dass er die Schlangen aus Irland vertrieb. Auch der Shamrock, das Kleeblatt, geht auf seine Mission zurück und repräsentiert die Dreifaltigkeit. Grün ist die Farbe Irlands, deshalb zieht man sich an diesem Tag grün an, das ist patriotisch und bringt Glück. Tut man es nicht, darf man gezwickt werden, das ist ein alter irischer Brauch. Auch wir werden diesen Tag natürlich besonders feiern – lasst euch überraschen.
